THE DEMOCRATIC PLAN.
Still another evidence that the foolish season is on comes from the spokesman of the Smoot Republican machine, in a suggestion that the Democrats ought to vote the Republican ticket this fall in order to beat the wicked "American" party. The suggestion is not without its humorous side, though it does presuppose an imbecile management in the Democratic party.

If any one man is responsible for the existence and success of the "American" party in the last municipal election, that one man is Reed Smoot.
Butting into a city election where he had no business, he confused the issues and incensed the voters of all parties so thoroughly that the "American" party slipped into office. His own followers know that he was responsible for the outcome; they knew, and he should have known, that his candidate had no more show of election than a Plute Indian. So far, he does not seem to have done anything that should entitle him or his party to another chance at any office in the state, from dog-catcher up.

Again, the rule of the Smoot machine in state and national politics is about the best argument any one could wish for their defeat this fall. If Salt Lake or the state of Utah, or any community in it, is ever to have the peace to which it is entitled, it will have to come through the defeat of both the Smoot wing and the "American" wing of the Republican party. They both represent discord, dissension, destruction of the state's best interests. The people, the great mass of the people of every political belief, are sick and tired of the eternal yammering that has followed in the wake of Smoot's political aspirations and the aspirations of his opponents.

No; the Democratic party will not vote the Smoot ticket this fall, nor any other fall. It will go into the county and state campaign this year in better trim for a good fight than it has been in for years. It has its opponents demoralized and discredited, and it will make an aggressive fight on them both.
More than that, it will win on its merits and it will put the Smoot crowd and the "American" crowd out of business politically, just where they belong.

NO POLITICAL INSPECTORS.

There is one feature of the meat inspection bill that has escaped general attention but that thoroughly deserves attention. This is the provision that permits inspectors to be appointed without going through the test of a civil service examination. That would put the places at the disposal of senators and representatives to be used as rewards for faithful henchmen, and it could not fail to have a disastrous effect on the meat inspection service.
There is no way of getting around this proposition.

President Roosevelt has specifically condemned this feature of the bill. He believes that the one test for candidates for inspectors should be the test of fitness rather than the political test.
The chief executive is absolutely right in his contention. If we are to have any meat inspection at all we should have a competent inspection. We can never be sure of competent inspection if we have political inspectors. It would be a great mistake, an almost criminal mistake, to base appointments on anything except merit.

It would be a criminal mistake because the health, even the lives, of hundreds of thousands of people is involved. An incompetent inspector, or one who for a consideration would pass diseased animals, could do an incalculable amount of harm. It cannot be said that there is not enough time in which to secure men who can pass a civil service examination. This because the civil service commission has already announced that it has on its list now forty-five eligibles, and before the bill can possibly be passed and put into operation the commission will have a list of 100, all perfectly competent, to choose from. More than this number will not be needed in the beginning.

By the time more are needed the civil service commission will be able to furnish them.

So the last excuse of the politicians fades away. There is not left any justification whatever for making the inspectorship a sort of partisan graft.
Goodness knows there is enough of that sort of thing in the various departments of the government now. President Roosevelt should be given an opportunity to demonstrate his sincerity in this instance.

THE NEW YORK TRAGEDY.

"Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." No sermon on the tragedy that was enacted in New York City Monday night could tell the story better than the few words we have quoted. On the one hand we have a man at the height of a career so successful that it can only be described by the misused word, brilliant. On the other hand a dissolute young man with a real or fancied grievance. The man had the reputation of being a man about town. His means were ample and he was as keen in the pursuit of pleasure as he was in the profession he had adorned.

The younger man had spent most of his life with an eye single to enjoyment, but he was grosser, more abandoned, more open in his pursuits. The paths of these two crossed some years ago, and a hatred was born that was nourished carefully in the heart of the younger of the two. The men met Monday night in Madison Square roof garden and the result was a tragedy that startled the entire country. There has been nothing more spectacular, indeed, in recent years, than the killing of Stanford White by Harry Kendall Thaw.

The crime was committed in the presence of hundreds of pleasure-loving people, and young Thaw was apparently as calm through it all as if he were performing one of the most commonplace acts of his life. Now will follow a sensational trial, a trial that will perhaps blacken more than one reputation. And in any event, no matter what the outcome of the criminal proceedings, the life of Thaw is ruined as surely as the man he shot is dead.
Never again can he be the same, never can the members of his family cease to grieve for him and about him. The man who is dead and his family are better off.

GUILTY TAXPAYERS.

Those property owners on Second South street who hoped to have a respectful hearing from the "American" council on their protest against asphalt paving might have known in advance that they would be refused an opportunity to present their case. To begin with, Black and his associate "Americans" don't care what a property owner wants so long as they know what Moran has decided upon. To be sure, the property owners pay the bills, and in most really American communities they would be listened to with respect because they are entitled to be heard. But with the "Americans" it is different.

In the opinion of Black et al. the taxpayer's only business is to put up his assessment and take cheerfully whatever the "American" council is pleased to give him. It is preposterous to suppose that the council will listen for a moment to any such foolishness as a proposal to cut Moran out of an asphalt contract and substitute macadam on which any ordinary contractor could compete. Haven't the "Americans" made it plain enough that no one but Moran need apply? Don't these taxpayers know that a campaign is coming on and the "Americans" are going to need Moran's friendship—and votes—very, very badly?

Hoot mon! Such innocence as would expect to get any consideration from the council as against Moran needs a gun.

The senate committee on judiciary has decided that congress has no right to regulate insurance. This will be good news to the life insurance grafters, but wouldn't it have been better to pass a bill and let the supreme court decide upon its constitutionality?

Wasn't it the irony of fate for the Indian, Nebeker, to go through a lot of thrilling experiences only to die at last because a bucket fell on him in a trench? This will doubtless be taken by all red brothers as a warning against working for a living.

Two men who voted illegally in the last Kansas City election have been sentenced to serve two years each in the state prison. It doesn't pay to be crooked in Missouri any more. Governor Folk watches too carefully.

Mr. Schwab desires it understood that people who talk about his gambling escapades are at perfect liberty, as far as he is concerned, to retire to a place that is so hot we don't like to think about it.

Logan is to have a $50,000 federal building. Mr. Howell probably thinks that ought to be abundant compensation for his inactivity in the school consolidation matter.

It appears that the prophets were all wrong about that councilman line-up.
Mr. Moran had the entire body, instead of a bare two-thirds majority, with him.

The czar of Russia had better hurry if he hopes to get away in safety. A large part of his army has mutinied and the rest of it is wavering.

It is proper to make the announcement once again that summer has arrived.

SOCIETY

The lawn fete and dance given at Rowland hall last evening by the women of St. Mark's guild was a large and brilliant affair. The place was gayly lighted all through the grounds with strings of lanterns and many colored lights, and little tables were arranged under the trees for the serving of refreshments. The evening began with a fine musical programme rendered in the library in which Miss Eleanor C. Putnam, Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, Miss Amy Osborne, Miss Isabel Osborne and Miss Selma Wall and Karl A.
Scheld took part. An orchestra stationed in the alcove interspersed several musical numbers, and later when time came for dancing this orchestra furnished dance music in the gymnasium and school room. A number of the younger girls of the school served punch during the early evening, among them being Miss Margaret and Miss Gladys Hutchinson, Miss Florence Raymond, and Miss Ora Allen. Several hundred persons were present.

Mrs. John C. Lynch and Mrs. John Alfred Reeves were the hostesses yesterday afternoon at a large and elaborate tea given at the Lynch home on Brigham street. From 2 till 5 o'clock a constant stream of guests was coming and going and music and gay merriment reigned. The room was fragrant with many roses, pink La France being used throughout except in the dining room, where crimson rambler formed the decorations of both table and sideboard. The polished table was covered with a cloth of exquisite blue lace and on this a central decoration of one large basket of the rambler was placed. Four smaller baskets around the edge added to the color, and the same hue was seen in confections and in vases around the room. An orchestra on the upper landing in the hall furnished music. Mrs. T. H. Goggin served punch in the library and the dining room was in charge of Miss Caroline Harrison.

Mrs. Kenneth C. Kerr entertained about sixty of her friends at a tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Eleventh East street. The house was gay both outside and in with the June roses, the broad veranda making an ideal reception room for the receiving party. Hanging baskets of the roses filled all the spaces, and rugs and divans made the place into a summer sitting room. At one side a punch bowl was set for refreshments, and within tea was served. Roses were in great bowls on every side, and a huge basket of them tied with broad satin ribbons filled the center of the table. Mrs.
Kerr was assisted in receiving and entertaining her guests by Mrs. Clifford R. Pearsall, Mrs. Joseph G. Caine, Mrs.
J. M. Bidwell, Mrs. William Reid and Miss Jasmine Young.

Samuel Newhouse entertained a party of friends at dinner Monday evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. J. J.
Ramberger of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Shaw of Denver. American beauties were used throughout the rooms for decoration and the guests numbered twenty. The others present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Filer, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Calaghan, Mrs. Walter Harvey, Mrs. Charles Maley, Miss Katherine Goddard, Miss Jasmine Young, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bamberger, Theodore Baal, Henry Peery, J. E. Bevis, Zeb Kendall and J. T. Godwin.

Mrs. W. I. Snyder assisted by the Misses Cora and Rilla Snyder, entertained yesterday afternoon at a bridge tea for Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes. Ten tables were filled with the players and after the games were finished prizes were awarded to Mrs. Elizabeth W. Nock and Mrs. Windsor V. Rice. At the tea which followed Mrs. Thomas Carter assisted in serving. The home on First street was gay with roses in all the rooms except the dining room, where blue Canterbury bells were used.

Miss Helen Jennings and Miss Florence Culmer entertained at cards yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Helen Monroe of Omaha. Ten tables were filled with the players, who were all the young girl friends of the two hostesses.
Assisting them in entertaining were Mrs. Joseph Jennings, Mrs. H. L. A.
Culmer and Mrs. C. H. McMahon. The house was bright with roses, and at the end of the game prizes were awarded to Miss Grace Meyers and Miss Emma Morris.

Mrs. Leslie Loring Savage entertained a few of the younger set at a bridge tea yesterday for Miss Mary Moore and Miss Mary Lee McShane. After a few games of bridge tea was served and prizes for the victors were given. Miss Stella McIntyre and Miss Maude Fitch, Mrs. R. H. Channing and Miss Katherine Judge poured and roses were used throughout the home in decorations.

Mrs. William C. Bruhl entertained about a score of her friends yesterday at a musical for her guest, Mrs. Lloyd Draper of Omaha. An informal musical programme was rendered, those taking part being Miss Draper, Miss Bess Critter, Miss Beatrice Johnson, Miss Alviria Martin, Miss Beatrice Davis, Miss Beula Dix, Miss Aline Gray and Miss Mary Mayne.

The marriage of Miss Maude May Irvine and David C. Dunbar will take place this afternoon at the home of the bride's father. The ceremony will be witnessed by only the immediate family and later the bride and groom will leave for a trip to the Atlantic coast.

Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes and Mrs. Jay T. Harris will entertain at a luncheon on Saturday for Mrs. Charles Shields of Park City.

Miss Beatrice Cheesman took a party of girl friends down to the Cheesman farm yesterday afternoon to remain for a few days' rest and country life. They were Miss Alice Miller, Miss Marge Miller, Miss Eloise Sadler, Miss Elizabeth McIntyre and Miss Gertrude Hanson.

have been east on a pleasure trip of a few months, are expected back tomor-

H. Lawson, will leave today for Denver,
